RFCC Presidents Report

54th Bonanza.

The preparations for the Clubs Main Fundraiser is ticking along nicely with the tickets into books, Rod Tags and Wrist Bands assembles into their Entry Bags with the rules and Regulations. The Prize List will be put together in the coming week or two when it is known what the sponsorship prize is. The Head Beach Warden for this Bonanza will be Cheryl Brown with Steven Shand to assist. A Position Sheet will be drawn up for the Wardens Beach positions so to get in early or miss out on your favourite spot. 39 Wardens are needed so the Club will be looking for volunteers from friends, family, and mates to help. The Club offers all Beach Wardens a free entry ticket for one rod only, light refreshments and a BBQ after the Competition at the Clubrooms. The Weigh Station and Headquarters on the day is fully Staffed with a Weighmaster and his Assistants, MC and Sound System.

Working Bee.

A very disappointing turnout with the date for this Working bee well-advertised months before. Seven members turn up with one member ring up to apologise that he could not make it. I would like to thank all those who did turn up to help and those who didn't bother, have a look at your membership and ask yourself why you joined the Club in the first place. The Clubrooms need maintenance from time to time and it is the responsibility of all Club Members to give their time and effort to complete the tasks set for you.

Boundary Adjustment.

The Surveyor has been to Survey the power access point to be added to the title. The Water Access Point is a bit confusing as no-one in the Club knows where pipeline goes. The Committee has decided not to proceed with the Water easement but have a Water Agreement with the Farmer instead.
